Dr. Neumann Displays First Editions

First editions and other choice books collected by Dr. G. J. Neumann, dean of the faculty and head of the English department, have been on display at the Waverly public library. This collection, a result of Dean Neumann's love of books, has been assembled over years and contains first editions and several other early issues.

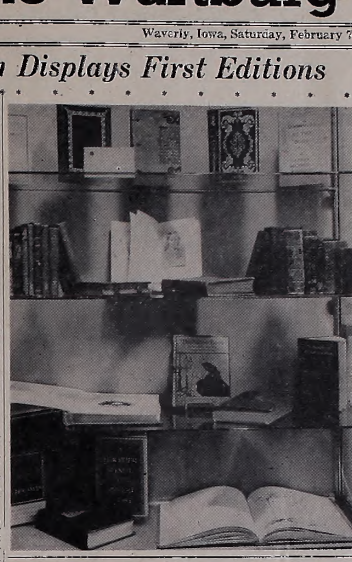
Oldest book in the display is a volume of German legal proceedings dated 1681, bound in 12th century Latin music manuscript, as was then the custom of bookbinders. An old leather bound German New Testament with a leather clasp is among the collector's items.

Another interesting volume is an edition of Browning's "Saul," in which each page is inserted separately. Oddly enough Lett's "Into Morocco" is bound in scarlet morocco leather with gold stamp work. Most beautiful book is perhaps the folio of "Wild Flowers of the West Coast" with water color studies by an unknown artist.

Former owners of some of these volumes have left bits of themselves within as in the case of the 1806 edition of Johnson's "Poems," on the inside cover of which the notation of the birth of a son, complete to the minute and second, is recorded.

Works of Milton, Byron, Scott, Tennyson, Stevenson and Housman are on display, as are first editions of Mark Twain, Longfellow, Robert Frost, Whittier, Edwin Markham and E. A. Robinson.

"Youth's Keepsake," an early book for children, is also shown, as is an illustrated quarterly, "The Yellow Book."



'Be Prepared,' Says Chairman

With a message of "Be Prepared" aimed especially to pre-theologians and future tutors, C. W. Pries, college business manager, and leadership training chairman of the Bremer county district of the Boy Scouts, yesterday issued a call for students to attend the approaching University of Wartburg to be held March 30 to May 11.

Intended to instruct people for scoutmaster training, the institute will meet on the Wartburg campus for two hours once a week during the six weeks' period. Instructors will include Wartburg faculty members and students as well as people in the community.

Termination of the school will be marked by an overnight hike to Camp Ingawanis near Waverly.

Any people on the campus wanting to attend or instruct in the school are asked to contact Mr. Pries. He emphasized the help which will be given to future seminarians or teachers who will some day be asked to provide leadership for Scouting.

Betty Kroll To Give Pipe Organ Recital

Betty Kroll, mid-term graduate of Waseca, Minn., will present a pipe organ recital Sunday, Feb. 8, at 4:30 p.m. in St. Paul's Lutheran church.

She is a student of Dr. Robert Hieber, pipe organ instructor at Wartburg. Her program includes "Help from Above," Purcell; "Praise God from Whom All Blessings Flow," Pachelbel; "O Mensch Bewein Dein Sunde Gross" (O Man, Bewail Thy Grievous Sins), J. S. Bach; "Choral in A Minor," Franck; "First Symphony," Vide, Allegro Vivace, Finale) Vierne.

Betty has recently accepted the position as organist in the First Methodist church, Waterloo, and is recreational director at the Lutheran Children's Home in Waverly. Giving piano lessons to the children at the home is among her duties there.

Rieke Completes Plans For School To Be Held At St. Paul's Church

Pastor Marcus Rieke, youth director of the American Lutheran church, completed arrangements last Sunday with the Rev. Otto Fangmeyer, pastor at St. Paul's Lutheran church for the trial advance leadership training school, to be held at St. Paul's parish house from March 11 to 14.

According to the national Luther League president, Kenneth Priebe, advance leadership training schools will be set up in the individual districts of the American Lutheran church this summer and will be secondary schools to the leadership training schools put in operation a number of years ago. The training given at these higher schools will be offered to Lutherans 19½ years and older who have attended primary leadership training schools.

Purposes of the trial leadership training school, to be held in advance of the summer advance schools, are to orient the youth board with possible problems that may arise at the district schools and to be observed by a number of officials from the American Lutheran church. Other observers will include district youth committee chairmen and delegates from other Lutheran synods.

Select group of young people attending this trial advance school will be made up of college students, Luther Leaguers from the Waterloo area, Iowa district league officers and a number of other leaguers from outlying districts. The enrollment will not exceed 40 students, according to Priebe.

Proposed faculty for this first advance leadership training school will be Dr. Emanuel Poppen, general president of the American Lutheran church; the Rev. H. W. Siefkes, president of the Iowa district, and Dr. Carl Reuss, executive secretary of the Board of Charity. The Rev. Mr. Rieke will serve as dean of the faculty.

History MAC Topic

Review of the history of music from the Revolutionary war to the 19th century will be given at the Music Appreciation club tomorrow, Feb. 8, in Old Main.

This review will be presented by the playing of different musical selections. A number of solos will be sung by members of the club, followed by a social hour.

Foster To Present Piano Concert Next On Artist Series

Next in the Wartburg College Artist series will be Sidney Foster, young American pianist who will present a concert in the Waverly high school auditorium on Feb. 17.

Since Mr. Foster's debut recital in New Orleans in 1940, he has had a meteoric career climaxed by his recital a year ago in Carnegie hall.

A native of the south, Mr. Foster has spent most of his time in the north. He began his piano studies at nine, and one year later was advanced enough to begin his study at the Curtis Institute in Philadelphia.

After two years at Curtis, he returned to New Orleans, where he studied with Walter Goldstein. In 1930 Mr. Foster gave his debut concert there, and encouraged by good press notices, he continued to present concerts, being graduated from the Curtis Institute in 1933.

Although he has won several prizes, Mr. Foster's greatest fame has come as a result of his appearances with some of the nation's leading symphony orchestras.

No PT In Gymnasium Monday As Brotherhood Institute Meets

Physical training classes will find no room for themselves in the college gymnasium Monday for that day the gym will be the scene of the first annual Iowa District Lutheran Brotherhood Institute.

Intended especially for local officers throughout the state, the institute will also attract pastors and other Brotherhood members interested in improving their local organization.

Featured speakers at the meeting will include Dr. F. W. Otterbein, pastor of North Austin United Lutheran church, Chicago; Louis Bender, president of the Brotherhood of the American Lutheran church, and Dr. William Sodt, first vice-president of the American Lutheran church.

Dr. Herma4 Siefkes, president of the Iowa district, ALC, will welcome the group, and Dr. John Hiltner, professor of Christianity and philosophy at the college, will lead in devotions.

Essentials of parliamentary procedure will be discussed by L. W. Brewster, college speech instructor. Luncheon will be served at St. Paul's parish house with tickets by the Warthurg band under the direction of Edfield Odegard.

"How to Talk to People About the Church" is the subject of a personal evangelism to be given by Dr. Otterbein. Wartburg President C. H. Becker will lead a discussion on this lecture.

The Rev. Waldemar Langholz, college development director, will talk on the Brotherhood project for the college, and Mr. Bender will discuss the Brotherhood program for 1948.

Dr. Sodt will deliver the afternoon inspirational address.

Rieke Inspires Young People At Parish House

The Rev. Marcus Rieke, youth director of the American Lutheran church, inspired a group of approximately three hundred Luther Leaguers and Wartburg students with an informal address given at St. Paul's parish house Monday evening.

Theme of his "ground-hog day" address was "Shadows." He began by saying that the shadows which are being cast over this world today are grotesque and horrible and that all of society covers the Word of God with grim shadows of hatred.

"Shadows look the stillest," said the Rev. Mr. Rieke, "when one is farthest from the light. The shadows of society keep us from taking things seriously. Our words, deeds and thoughts today show that we are too far from the Light of our Holy Lord."

The speaker gave consideration to the silhouette—that perfection in shadowgraph that is produced when the light is just right. He urged his audience, as Christian young people, to show silhouette of Christ in the shadow upon the church. The church is looking to her young people for a shadow of loyalty; she is proud of her youth and she is constantly on her knees thanking God for them.

The Rev. Mr. Rieke's address was concluded with reference to the shadow of things to come. He said, "For the people in this world who have suffered so miserably, the future cannot be any worse than their past has been. Their prayer is simply, 'Come, Lord Jesus, quickly come.'"

Clothing Drive Held For European Relief

Clothing drive for European relief was held this past week under the sponsorship of the German club. Boxes were placed in the various buildings into which students could deposit clothing.

Collection of clothing was to end today unless the committee in charge decides to extend the drive. Packaging will be done early next week. The clothing will be sent to Lutheran World Relief, Incorporated, which will send it to needy people in Europe.

Committee in charge includes Geraldine Degnan and Martha Bieber, freshmen; Rudy Wendel and Gerald Koehler, juniors, and Richard Schwarz, sophomore.

500 Witness Concert By Wartburg Band

An audience of about five hundred witnessed the first concert appearance of the Wartburg college band in full uniform Thursday evening at the Waverly high school auditorium.

Edfield A. Odegard, instrumental music instructor conducted the concert intended to provide funds for the purchase of a new baritone horn for the band.

Also appearing in the concert were Margaret Fritschel, senior piano soloist of Dr. Robert Hieber, and Dorothy Dahlstrom, sophomore vocal student of Mrs. Erma Bowman.

Trumpet Receives Criticism

This week the TRUMPET received a bit of criticism which the editors classify more as a compliment than an insult. The criticism was to the effect that this paper prints "too much religion," the censurer more than likely referring to the amount of space devoted to convocation reviews, religious editorials and reports on the activities of religious organizations on the campus.

Upon first hearing this criticism, the editors were rather astonished, for the question of whether or not they were printing ENOUCH religious material has been uppermost in their minds as they have considered the small amount of space available. But this reproof has given them something on which to base a few contemplations concerning religion—or, more exactly here, Christianity.

Christianity in a Christian community or in a Christian college must be the dominant theme; it must be the basis for every activity of students and faculty alike. If this statement tends to appear rather extreme, consider for a few moments the tenets of our faith, a faith that is Christ-centered, a faith where the six letters combined to form C-H-R-I-S-T are the most important letters in our alphabet.

This Christianity could hardly be subjugated in any attempt at an honest coverage of college news. Wartburg college was established as a Christian college and is still supported by the American Lutheran church; that fact in itself indicated where the emphasis should be.

We Wartburgers are really fortunate in that we can emphasize Christ and His Gospel without any fear of social or political ostracism. Many students will undoubtedly some day look back with longing to these days spent in a Christian college; it seems that Christ usually is not very popular in the steel mill, harvest field or engineer's office.

Christianity is not a wonderfully logical theory of goodness that is to be applied only in church and when entertaining the minister at tea. It is a divine faith in a personal Saviour, a faith much more worthy of publicity than the latest details of the romance between Joe College and Carol Coed.

T

'These Things I Command'

These things I command you, that ye love one another.
—John 15:17

There are various kinds of love in this earthly world of ours, but just what did Christ mean when He said, "Love ye one another."?

Certainly He meant love your enemies and to do good unto them that hate you, to hold no hard feelings and to speak wrongly against no one.

But hidden in that word "love" is another word— equality. Perhaps the word equality does not mean outright visible love, but it can be made to develop into a Christian love for one another. For without a feeling of equality, there can be no true love, but rather a sort of pity.

Racial prejudice is the worst enemy of equality. There are too many persons who confess to be Christians and yet think of the Negro as some sort of animal to be ruled by the superior whites. Love ye one another. These individuals are not even lukewarm to the meaning of Christ's word, and they never will come close to its meaning until they realize that in the sight of God everyone is equal.

We must cast aside our worldly vanities and recognize the fact that every living being has a soul—a soul that is not red or black or yellow, but a soul planted there by God, making us equal as children of God.

The Bible does not say that Jesus came to save the Jews or the Chinese or the white people. No, it says that Christ's mission was salvation for all men. May we awaken from our vanity and learn, through the help of God, to love all men as our brothers in Christ.

Presenting Your Faculty

Prof. Baetke Former Editor

In the list of past editors-in-chief of Wartburg's publications is the name of the Rev. August Baetke, now numbered among the faculty here.

Born in northwest Iowa, the son of a rural pastor, the Rev. Mr. Baetke set the groundwork for his journalistic and educational endeavors in a rural school near his home, attending his father's parochial school for the few months that it was offered each year.

Wartburg's Clinton site was the scene of the sociology professor's schooling in the academy and college courses. Before his graduation from college he played a violin in the orchestra, as well as a drum and later the tuba in the band. As a journalist, he edited a humor column entitled 'Slips and Slips' before being promoted to the editorship of the Wartburg Quarterly, forerunner of the present TRUMPET.

Takes Up Pastoral Work.

After his work at the Wartburg Seminary was completed, the sociologist took up work as second pastor of St. John's Lutheran church in San Antonio, Tex. With the establishment of a new mission in the city, he took over full duty there, as well as serving on the Board of Mexican Missions which controlled American Lutheran missions among the Mexicans in the Rio Grande Valley and in San Antonio.

Except for a year of study in Germany, the Rev. Mr. Baetke lived in Texas until 1931. While in Germany in 1923, he studied theology at Leipzig and Erlangen universities.

Moving to Milwaukee in 1931, he took up his duties as pastor and superintendent of the Lutheran Deaconness Home there. Here he was in charge of the work that had been begun many years before by Passavant, after whom Wartburg's social work club is named and who organized the deaconess movement in the Lutheran church. Today the Lutheran church has about five hundred of these women parish workers and social workers and serving in hospitals, charitable institutions, children's homes and old folks' homes.

Milwaukee To Wartburg.

In 1946 the head of the sociology department left his work in Milwaukee to teach sociology at Wartburg, having earned his M.A. degree in sociology after taking summer courses and working with the extension department of the University of Chicago.

Although the Rev. Mr. Baetke also enjoys fishing and vacationing in the North woods and playing golf, his hobby has always been sociology, which he only the last few years has made his vocation as well as his avocation.

To him, "Sociology reorsents a part of American scientific thinking of increasing importance. It has a contribution to make to our thinking here and to the work of church workers and lo the lives of Christians."

That is why he is taking joy in building a greater sociology department for a Greater Wartburg.

Flying Dutchmen Cool Knight Pace

Wartburg Knights suffered their eighth Iowa conference setback of the season when they bowed to the Central Dutchmen to the tune of 54-39 at Pella last night.

Starting off like a house afire, the Knights' starting five, Jim Keller, Gene Bowdish, Lloyd Spier, Paul Bruns and Dutch Sauerbry, each dumped in a bucket and after eight minutes of play led 13-3. Playing at a rapid pace, the Knights' fast break and weave was working perfectly.

Knights Cool Off.

Then something happened. The Knights cooled off and the Flying Dutchmen, led by 8-foot 7-inch Stan Borgman, and Brown, who got hot from far out, came roaring back to lead 25-18 at half-time.

During the first seven minutes of the second half, the Knights managed to stay within 7 or 8 points of the Dutchmen. But Central's height really began to tell and Wartburg dropped further back.

Playing a good floor game, the Knights again lacked the necessary height and had tough luck on their shots.

Spier Defensive Star.

Lloyd Spier played a stellar defensive game while Gene Bowdish led the Knight attack with 12 points.

Borgman, tall, rangy Dutchman center, had 13 points in spite of the fact that he sat out most of the second half because of fouls.

Dr. Hieber recommends this artist very highly and is planning to have about fifteen students attend this concert to be held in the Cornell chapel.

Knights Match Dubuque Offers Only To Falter

By Bob Gronlund

For 15 minutes at Dubuque Saturday night, the Knights of Wartburg matched the offerings of the league-leading Dubuque Spartans, only to falter in the second period and lose by the top-heavy margin of 70-40.

Rated the underdog, Wartburg surprised a good-sized crowd by leading the highly touted Dubuque five by one to three points during the first 10 minutes of play. The home team then forged ahead, only to see the count tied up at 17-all as Gene Bowdish came through with his two goals of the evening. With five minutes remaining in the first half, the Spartans started moving and built up a 29-21 lead at the intermission.

Forwards Bud Loats and Jerry Borg spearheaded the second period Dubuque drive, dumping in seven buckets within the first six minutes. This display put the game on ice for the Spartans, as the Wartburg cagers were unable to cope with the superior height and ability of the 1947 Iowa conference champs.

With the exception of Jim Kremer, who had four goals charged against him, the Dubuque starting line-up remained intact and rolled up the score on the overpowered Knights. Not until the count stood at 66-39 with less than three minutes to go, did the substitutes pour into the fray for the victors.

Borg, with 22 points and Loats with 19 were by far the outstanding players on the floor. Between the two of them, they accounted for one more point than the entire Wartburg quintet could put together.

For the Knights, "Dutch" Sauerbry was top man with 12 points, followed by Lloyd Spier with 11.

This was the seventh straight conference win against no losses for Dubuque, while it left Wartburg with a won three—lost seven record.

Experienced I.S.T.C. 'B' Squad Matmen Outclass Knights

By Adam Meidinger

Outclassed by a much more experienced Iowa State Teachers college "B" team, Wartburg wrestlers were defeated 28-8 here Wednesday night before an enthusiastic crowd that filled the college gymnasium.

Harold Wiltshire of the 165-lb. class and Ray Meier of the 175-ers saved the Knights from being blanked by gaining decisions.

Wiltshire's match with Huss ended in an 8-8 tie, but the Knight gained the decision on riding time.

Ray Meier came back strong in the final two periods, in spite of a knee injury acquired early in the match, to decision his man, 7-5.

Inexperience of the Knights showed up especially in their failure in using escapes.

Wartburg's next meet will be on Feb. 11 at the Waterloo YMCA. Next home meet will be against Macalester on Feb. 14 at 4 p.m. in the college gym.

Looking 'Em Over

Wartburg's matmen put on a pleasing performance before a large crowd in the gymnasium Wednesday night, in spite of losing to the Teachers college B team by a score of 28-8.

Knights no doubt learned a great deal in this encounter with the experienced grapplers of T. C. to strengthen their chances in the conference meet next month.

In its first year at Wartburg, wrestling certainly has caught on, and the students are enthusiastic about it. A lengthy schedule has been arranged by Knight Coach Nelson to give the fans more of this thrilling sport. It is most gratifying to note the week to week improvement the matmen have made under the tutelage of Coach Nelson. They can be certain of constant support of the Wartburg students and alumni.

Around the Conference

Penn, St. Ambrose and the Knights are the only schools active in conference wrestling this year. St. Ambrose of Davenport will be the scene of the conference meet on March 13. Although the other schools began wrestling earlier in the season, to get a head start on the Knights, the local lads will be at their best when the conference meet is held.

High-riding Dubuque is virtually a cinch to walk off with the basketball crown this year. Both Luther and Upper Iowa have an outside chance to tie them, but this is not likely, for the former's remaining games are all with the lower teams in the conference standings, none of whom are expected to defeat them.

Predictions

Next week two of the top fives in the loop will be the foes of the Knights on the local floor. Dubuque, which gave the Wartburg loopsters a trouncing last week-end, will be victorious again, this time in a thrilling game, with the lead changing hands many times.

Your reporter, who was on hand for the Luther-Wartburg game at Decorah earlier in the season, made the statement then that it would be a Knight victory when the Norsemen came to Waverly. This is still his prediction, with the Knights throttling Norseman attempts to a higher position in the loop.

U N Session Discussed At Student Senate Meet

Announcement by the Iowa Intercollegiate United Nations committee and a letter from the Minnesota district president of the National Student association were discussed at the meeting of the Student Senate last Monday in Luther hall.

United Nations sample session will be held at Drake university, conducted by various colleges and universities, from April 30 to May 1. Should Wartburg accept the invitation, it would be entitled to four representatives and as many alternates. Wartburg would be assigned a nation, which it would represent at the sample UN session.

Sending Recommendations

Recommendations of this three-day session will be sent to UN headquarters, Lake Success, N.Y.

Letter from the Minnesota district National Student association president was summarized by Adeline Rudolph, member of the faculty-student council, before the Senate. The letter heartily recommended the NSA.

Further action on both subjects will be taken later, pending more information, according to the decision of the Senate.

Meyer's Work Appreciated.

Harold Meyer, sophomore, the activities committee, and all others who helped were thanked for the work done on the skating rink. It was announced that the rink will be flooded again as soon as hose is obtained.

Words to the new pep song have been selected and turned over to the music department to be set to music, as announced by the pep song committee.

Several suggestions from the "gripe box" the last few weeks have been turned over to the proper committees, who will determine feasible action.

Two Newly Engaged

Recent engagement is that of Muriel Hanselmann, Bessie, Okla. and Robert Wiedenenders, Waverly.

Muriel, a freshman, is on a two-year elementary teacher course. Robert, a middler at the Wartburg Seminary in Dubuque, is a son of Dr. and Mrs. Martin Wiedenenders, Waverly. Dr. Wiedenenders is head of the education department at Wartburg college.

Eldor Fruehling Weds

Miss Florence Steffin and Elder Fruehling, both of Auburn, Neb., were married in January. Mr. Fruehling, now attending Peru State Teachers college in Nebraska, attended Wartburg the first semester last year. He is a brother of Wilmut Fruehling, instructor of psychology here.

Ex-Priest To Speak

Amadee Fredette, former Roman Catholic priest of Fond du Lac, Wis., now a student at Wartburg Seminary, Dubuque, will be the guest speaker at the Chi Rho meeting Sunday, Feb. 8, at 2 p.m. in convocation hall.

Chi Rho officers invite all those interested to attend.

Two To Conduct Lenten Services At St. Paul's

Lenten services will be conducted in St. Paul's Lutheran church during the coming Lenten season by the Rev. Otto Fangmeyer, in charge of the Wednesday night services, and the Rev. Edwin Schick, who will direct the Friday night services. English services will begin at 8 p.m. on both evenings.

Friday night services are designed for the students' convenience, however, they will be welcome at the Wednesday night services as well, according to the Rev. Mr. Fangmeyer.

Chaplain Schick, of the Christianity department, announced that the Lenten services scheduled for Friday nights will include a sermon by the Rev. Marcus Rieke on Mar. 12 and a Lutheran World Action film, as yet not scheduled.

The Rev. Mr. Schick indicated that his sermons for the Lenten season will be based on the theses "We haven't really seen Jesus," "How we can see Jesus" and "Consequences which follow after seeing Jesus." Texts for the four sermons which he will deliver are: Mark 10:32-34 and John 12:24-26.

Holy Communion will be celebrated on Maundy Thursday, March 25, at which service the Rev. Mr. Schick will preach the sermon, "My Son, Give Me Thy Heart."

Class Shows "Suez"

First movie of the new semester sponsored by the senior class will be shown at 7:30 p.m. in the Wartburg gymnasium.

Aardal Will Speak

A. A. Aardal, associate professor of physics, will speak on the subject of "Lenses" at the Camera club meeting on Monday, Feb. 9, in room 22 of the administration building.

German Film Given By Club

By Dorothy Cross

"Singende Jugend," a German language film of pre-war Austria, was presented by the German club Tuesday, Feb. 3, in the college gymnasium.

Toni, the orphan boy and chief character, is thrown out by his cobbler master and is welcomed by a jovial street singer. Chief ambition of Toni is to study and sing with the Vienna boys choir, but the problem is how to gain entrance.

By tagging along with the choir boys at play, Toni is admitted, and after a talk with the director, the street singer leaves. In spite of the best efforts of Sister Maria, Toni is lonesome for his friend.

"Choir tour" to the Tyrolean Alps intervenes, but the friends again meet against the background of the edelweiss-strewn slopes. Suddenly, 1,000 shillings are lost. Sister Maria is accused and Toni loyally says that he is guilty. When the mislaid bank note is found, Toni is cleared, but he, meanwhile, has almost drowned. The movie ends happily for Toni and his friends.
